- (3) Acts that cause or may cause annoyance, disadvantage, or damage to other Users, third parties, or the Association.
- (4) Acts that infringe or may infringe intellectual property rights (copyrights, trademarks, etc.), portrait rights, privacy or other rights of other Users, third parties or the Association.
- (5) Acts that identify, disclose, or divulge personal information without the consent of the person concerned.
- (6) Acts that damage the honor or trust of other Users, third parties, or the Association, or that slander the Association.
- (7) Acts that impersonate other Users, including the Association or third parties.
- (8) Falsifying information on the Official Accounts.
- (9) Posting harmful programs or scripts, and spamming.
- (10) Using Official Accounts or information obtained from Official Accounts for commercial purposes.
- (11) Acts that are prohibited by the respective social media operators.
- (12) Posting inappropriate content including harmful, obscene, or violent expressions.
- (13) Political activities, election campaigns, religious activities or similar activities.
- (14) Any other activities that the Association deems inappropriate.

2 If information based on any of the preceding items (hereinafter referred to as, "Prohibited Acts") is posted on the Official Accounts, the Association may take action such as deleting or hiding such information without prior notices.

3 In the event that the Users violate the Terms of Use, the Association may take necessary measures such as deleting the postings by the User or blocking their account. In such cases, the Association will not notify the User.

Article 5 Intellectual Property Rights

The copyrights to text, photographs, video, music, sound and other works posted on the Official Accounts shall belong to the Association, the original author or other right holders.

2 The rights to the trade names, trademarks, logos, etc. of the Association, companies and organizations posted on the Official Accounts belong to the Association, the respective companies and organizations. The use or disposal of these without the permission of the Association or the respective companies or organizations is prohibited.

3 The Users shall be deemed to have granted the Association the right to use the intellectual property rights contained in information, etc. posted on the Official Accounts on a worldwide, free of charge and on a non-exclusive basis by posting such information on the Official Accounts. The Users agree not to exercise any intellectual property rights, including copyrights and moral rights, related to such information, etc. against the Association. The Users shall not exercise any intellectual property rights, including but not limited to copyrights and moral rights, against the Association.

Article 6 Content of Postings

The information provided by the Association on the Official Accounts is accurate as of the time it was posted, and the Association may revise the name, content, etc. without prior notice, and the posted information may not match the actual information as time passes.

2 Postings to the Official Accounts by the Users are deemed to be information that the Users themselves have agreed to make public, and the Association may store, record, reproduce, or edit such information, and post, display, or publicize it in various media and mediums free of charge.

Article 7 Compensation for Damages

In the event that the Association incurs damages as a result of the User's actions, the Association may demand compensation from the User for such damages.

Article 8 Handling of Personal Information

When the Association obtains personal information from the Users, it will manage it appropriately in accordance with the IHRA's Privacy Policy.
